GERMAN PLANE OFF FOR U. S.

POPULAR VOTE BRINGS RUIN TO VAST MACHINESketch of Downfall of Thompsonism.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Tuesday's victory of the public over the greatest political machine ever fashioned in Cook county added a new chapter to Chicago's history. Observers, viewing the triumph, saw in it a manifestation of popular wrath against the partnership between crime and politics; the bombing, machine gun murders, bootleggers, moonshiners and other products of the Voldstads.

They saw it as an uprising against the affiliation of gangland with government, and as a revolt against a machine, drunk with power, which sought absolute control of all the public offices, adjusted the laws to suit itself, and imposed on Chicago a regime comparable with that of the Tweed ring in New York.

Voters sensed "The Deal."

The victory, the first in which the citizenry has vanquished the organization in a Chicago primary since the advent of direct primaries, has as a highlight not only the crumpling of the machine but the smashing of the deal between politics and utilities. This bid for its stupendous financial stakes nothing less than a perpetual franchise to Chicago's streets.

Analysis, reviewing the campaign, showed the deal, which apparently originated somewhere in a back room with the Inull-Small-Smith-Thompson partnership as its basis, as one of the most significant symptoms of the depths to which government in Illinois had sunk before Tuesday's outpouring.

Combines Starts Working.

The methods and motivation of the utility-politics combine are traced in the revelations of the Reed senatorial committee. A friend was needed in the city hall, and so at the inception of the deal the candidacy of Frank L. Smith for United States senator was adopted as the opportunity to bring Thompson back into the mayor's chair and get the streets forever.

Thompson, in aid of Smith, started his anti-world court platform campaigning in the 1928 fight. He brought in Senators William E. Borah of Idaho and Henrik Shipstad of Minnesota and held great meetings in the Coliseum. Smith defeated Senator William R. McKinley, who had voted for the world court, and anti-world court was heralded as the issue that had brought this about.

Insull Revealed Contributor.

Senator Reed's committee came to Chicago and revealed that Samuel Insull had contributed $150,000 to Smith's campaign fund, and had given $35,000 to the Thompson political organization. Mr. Smith at the time was chairman of the Illinois commerce committee which fixes rates for the utilities, and the senate barred him when he went to Washington to take his seat.

The Reed committee also discovered that Mr. Insull, through Daniel Schuyler, one of his attorneys and law partner of Samuel Ettelson, now corporation counsel, paid out $32,325 in promotion of anti-world court sentiment.

Thompson Becomes Mayor.

Thompson's anti-court campaigning for Smith had brought him prominently before the public eye again after four years of retirement, and he lost no time in stepping up as a candidate for mayor. His platform was framed on anti-world court, and throughout Chicago he expressed a desire to "crack King George on the snout," a phrase that was quoted all over the world.

He won in the primaries and in the election. He was literally washed in a wave of demagoguery that led observers to declare he was in a class by himself in this line of endeavor.

One of Mayor Thompson's first acts after his inauguration was to appoint Ettelson as corporation counsel. The latter, as partner of Daniel Schuyler, was one of the Inull lawyers. Mr. Ettelson had served as head of the city law department during the former Thompson regime.

Enter Insull Transit Bills.

The scene shifts to Springfield. The Inull transit bills make their appearance in the legislature. They seek a perpetual franchise, an interminable right to use the streets. The city hall supports the measures, and Mayor Thompson speaks for them. Illumination begins to steal over affairs. The legislators start to talk of the apparent connection between the use of utility money to aid the anti-world court

DISAPPEARS OVER MOUNTAINS.

The plane headed straight down the runway just as daylight began to show.

It traveled about 900 yards before it lifted lightly to a few hundred feet and turned to the right, disappearing quickly over the mountains to the west. It was expected to pass over Kildare, Kings, and Galway counties before heading over Galway bay toward the open Atlantic.

The plane took off at 5:38 a. m. on Saturday time, which is 12:38 eastern standard time. The distance between Baldonnel airfield and Mitchel field, New York, is approximately 2,000 miles. The flyers expected to take forty hours on the trip across, which would put them at Mitchel field early Friday afternoon.

TUNE UP PLANE.

At 4 a. m. the engine of the plane was tuned up. As dawn broke, Baron Von Huenfeld, who had spent his entire fortune to buy the plane, and his pilot, Capt. Hermann Koehl and Col. James Fitzmaurice, commandant of the Free State air force, were at breakfast in the officers' mess with a number of the Free State air corps fliers.

who are among the 200 volunteers who served as special attorneys for the board of election commissioners on Tuesday were beaten. A lawyer who was a candidate for office was murdered as he passed through his ward.

Seek Evidence, Then Justice.

"We are certainly going to see that these men get justice. But we want to know our ground before we rush upon it, and so I appointed a committee of five lawyers, all of them exceptionally fitted for their task, to determine at once what had occurred, and what should be done about it."

"Reports from all of our members who were watchers at the polls will be given to the committee. We have asked the various public organizations who joined in the patriotic work of watching the polls to place all their reports in the committee's hands. We are anxious that every possible bit of information about the crimes committed on primary day be placed in the hands of our committee."

"The committee will consult with the election commissioners, with County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki and his investigators.

"When they have been given this view of the situation—and it will not be long—the committee will make their recommendations, and the board of managers will act."

Investigate 20th Ward Murder.

Charles Center Case, special vote frauds prosecutor, and Attorney Francis X. Busch were named by Mr. Lathan to attend the inquest to be held today into the murder of Attorney Octavius C. Eller, candidate for election as opponent of Morris Eller Thompson-Crowe boss, in the race for the office of Republican committeeman in the 20th ward.

Granady, who ran against Eller on the Deneen ticket, was pursued in an automobile race for two blocks by seven men who finally drove him to the curb and then shot him down with a rain of machine gun bullets. The assassin's car was decorated with the name and pictures of Morris Eller, witness told the police.

"Mr. Case and Mr. Busch have been asked to attend the Granady inquest," said President Lathan, "so that our committee will have first hand knowledge of the crime and so that plans may be laid to get at the political lords who promote and condone that sort of thing and let the killers go unpunished."

The two lawyers who were kidnapped and beaten before they were released as official watchers over polling places on the west side are C. R. Hanson and Arvid Toman. They have submitted reports to the Whitman committee.

New Law Aids Carlstrom.

Under the law recently passed by the legislature, the state's attorney, State's Attorney Crowe and with the active aid of Gov. Small, the attorney general must be called as special prosecutor if for any reason the state's attorney of any county is disqualified from acting in a criminal matter, or refuses to act. It now appears that the very weapon which Crowe and Small designed as a guard may be used against their own followers.

Should Attorney General Carlstrom decide to conduct the investigation, he will be empowered by the court to select his own investigators.

Would Help Case's Fight.

Such an inquiry would supplement the prosecutions waged by Attorney Case before Judge Jarecki against judges and clerks of election commissioners and clerks of election commissioners and clerks of election commissioners. Since Mr. Case understood his duties over the protests of State's Attorney Crowe, 27 crooked officials have been placed in jail, 40 more have been convicted and have appeals pending, and 30 more face prosecution when they are apprehended.

In this inquiry, however, as it has been repeatedly pointed out by Mr. Case and Judge Jarecki, it is impossible to get at the men above who direct the underlings in their botched work. Judge Jarecki's investigation only over the officials of election, whereas a grand jury has sweeping powers which could enmesh all the members of a conspiracy. One of the chief complaints against the administration of State's Attorney Crowe, it is pointed out, has been that while Judge Jarecki has been engaged in punishing the election officials for contempt of court, not a word of evidence against them has been presented to the regular grand juries.

Arraignment 5 on Fraud Charges.

Five men were arraigned before Assistant County Judge J. E. Weaver yesterday in connection with frauds at the primary election.

Frank Perkins and Sam O'Brien, Thompson-Crowe supporters, were charged with illegal voting in the 25th precinct of the 45th ward. Perkins admitted to Attorney Urban Lavery of the election commissioners' legal staff that he attempted to vote under a fictitious name, and charged O'Brien influenced him to do so.

Jarecki Gives His View.

Judge Jarecki stated during the day that no general investigation of fraud has been begun, but that isolated instances are being looked into.

"What is worse, the most recent deal of intimidation, threats and violence, and a brazen attempt, apparently organized, was made to steal many thousands of votes. I believe the actual frauds perpetrated will be found to be much less than at any recent election," Judge Jarecki declared. "Precinct officials have been given to understand that they face the same fate as the 67 of them in Illinois who have been convicted of contempt of court and given jail sentences. They were not so ready to obey the political bosses' orders to deliver wholesale batches of fraudulent votes."

"Then, too, the polls were watched as they never were before. Thousands of patriotic citizens volunteered for this service."

PRIMARY GIVES LOWDEN'S STOCK NEW STRENGTH

Gets Nearly Million Votes
by Illinois G. O. P.

Delegates to the Republican national convention are pledged thus far as follows:

Lowden	165
Hoover	116
Curtis	23
Morris	16

The Democrats have pledged delegates to date as follows:

Smith	251
Reed	36
George	23

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Vice President Charles G. Dawes may lead the Illinois delegation to the Republican national convention at Kansas City next June. This delegation, it began to look probable yesterday, will be solidly for Frank O. Lowden. It is certain to be with him with the exception of half a dozen delegates.

Returns from the ten Chicago districts, which are nearly complete, show that Lowden won five delegates.

The opposition ticket put in the field by Mayor Thompson took 15 delegates.

The mayor himself was elected in the ninth district and George Harding in the second. Lowden's state wide vote was going toward the million mark. With 2,000 precincts left to be counted, he has 555,545. In the state the name of President Coolidge was written in by 2,599 voters.

Lowden in High Spirits.

The Vice President has declared for Lowden and will be made a delegate at large at the state convention which meets May 20 if he will consent to go to Kansas City as chairman. This question is expected to be decided in a day or two. Clarence Buck, Mr. Lowden's manager, had a conference with Senator Charles S. Deneen yesterday and later left for Washington to see the Vice President. It is said that there was a telephone conversation between Washington and Springfield in which Mr. Lowden received the state's word that he would be the Illinois candidate.

The Illinois result is a decided improvement to the Lowden stock as a presidential candidate. Where his votes approached the million mark, about 2,600 voters wrote in the name of President Coolidge.

Boon for Al Smith.

On the Democratic side the same might be said of the effect on the Al Smith situation. He will receive the Illinois delegation, it appeared last night, with one district in doubt. Both men will get the delegates large from this state, thus adding 11 to Lowden's column and 8 to Smith's.

Senator Deneen himself is not to be nominated in the presidential situation. For months his name has been mentioned in wise circles as a possible dark horse candidate in the event of a deadlock, and the Illinois result Tuesday, when his organization gave the Thompson-Small crowd such a trouncing, will be regarded beyond the borders of this state with speculative eyes.

The strength of the new political line-up in the state, it appears certain that Roy O. West, for many years the leader of the Deneen forces, will be the next Republican national committee man from this state.

New Party Control.

The Deneen-Carlstrom-Emmerson-Glenn combination now displaces the solid-Thompson crowd in control of the party in the state. This all works to the advantage of Mr. Lowden politically, and it now is anticipated by his man that 90 per cent of the down-state counties will send delegates instructed for Lowden to the state convention.

If the Vice President consents to head the delegation, the statemakers for delegates at large to be chosen by the convention pick something like this: Deneen, Deneen, Cook, and Glavin.

In the tenth district, Mr. Cook, a Deneen candidate, received 13,629 votes, against 33,000 for Savage.

The only upset in the Democratic list appears to be in the Eighth district, where Leo Kocalkowski nosed out Ald. John Toman for delegate.

Second District Split.

The Thompson slate of delegates carried the following Chicago districts: First, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, and split the Second, where George Harding for Thompson and Daniel Trade for Lowden were elected. Harding came up a winner as late returns came in, defeating Trade, who was leading with 25 precincts still missing.

In the First district Mrs. Ida Wells-Barnett polled only one-third of the vote given to Oscar de Priest and Dan Jackson, Thompson overlords in the Negro district.

In the mayor's own district he and William Wrigley romped in with a lead of from 5,000 to 7,000 votes, with 12 precincts missing. Mr. Wrigley beat the mayor by 2,000 votes.

In the tenth district, J. Lewis Coth, "the" Hennepin boy, was unseated by 10,000 votes. The big vote getter here was Howard P. Savage, former commander of the American Legion, running as a Lowden-Deneen candidate. J. Edgar Cook, who fled as a Deneen delegate, received 13,629 votes, against 33,000 for Savage.

The only upset in the Democratic list appears to be in the Eighth district, where Leo Kocalkowski nosed out Ald. John Toman for delegate.

Faith Is Renewed.

While Mr. Lowden, on incomplete returns, is assured of only three of the ten Chicago districts, he was enlightened with the state-wide vote and the prospect it opens for a united delegation for him.

"I am perfectly delighted with the result," he said. "The result in Cook county and the state generally has renewed my faith in the good sense and patriotism of the people of Illinois."

Chicago district delegates to the Republican national convention apparently will be as follows:

WIFTH—Oscar de Priest (T): Daniel Jackson (T).

SECOND—D. P. Trade (D, L): George Harding (T).

THIRD—John Bain (D, L): G. H. Gibson (D, L).

VOTE AVALANCHE SURPRISES ALL; DEMOCRATS SHY

Emerson Wins by Over 400,000.

(Pictures on back page.)

Male Republican returns staggered the Democrats last night as the election of the winners mounted to an almost unbelievable proportions and caused Democratic disappointment in the fall election.

Nearly complete returns showed that L. Emerson to have been nominated for governor by a vote of 960,-

000 against 550,493 for Gov. Small.

The count came from all but 29

Cook county precincts and with only

29 precincts missing out of the 6,624

in the state. These figures indicate

Emerson's plurality at over 410,000.

Carlstrom Leads Ticket.

Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom

in his renomination by an even larger margin, perhaps exceeding the 500,-

000 mark and running better than two times over his opponent, State Senator

John J. Dailey. In 6,685 precincts the

Emerson ticket was: Carlstrom, 571,566; Dailey, 127,275.

These two leaders, together with

John A. Swanson, nominee for the attorney of Cook county, had such an clean sweep that few of the opposing candidates in Cook county survived. Judge Swanson defeated State's Attorney Crowe by over 300,000, the latest figures being

Emerson, 458,877; Crowe, 262,775.

Out of the 1,000 most powerful political machines, Mayor Thompson and State's Attorney Crowe were the only two to receive new nominations. Nearly one-third of the returns showed the defeat of Jeff Charles E. Graydon by G. H.

Holden by a plurality of 3,054.

T. G. Wallace Renominated.

Thomas O. Wallace, clerk of the supreme court, and Samuel E. Erickson, clerk of the supreme court, were renominated, but they are political aspects of former Attorney General

Edward J. Brundage, although they wore the Thompson label in the primary.

Former Judge Bernard P. Baran-

ski whom Mayor Thompson made special pleader in his efforts to be renominated by Edward R. Litsinger. Litsinger's plurality was 107,217.

Congress Oscar Wolff was nominated by a margin of 21,144 votes, but his opposition to Thompson has been of no avail and kind and it was just recently that he reentered the Thompson fold. His original Deneen oppo-nition withdrew at the last minute and the Deneen crowd supported Hugo C.

Wolff, a newcomer in politics.

Some Thompson Victories.

A clear cut victory for Mayor

Thompson was had in the nomination of Ald. Eugene L. Nusser, whose father-in-law, George Hitzman, had not been in state's grain interest and Thompson and Gov. Small

Nusser had a plurality of 5,254 over

A. W. Sullivan.

Another Thompson victory was that of Ald. Oscar Nelson's nomination for sanitary trustee. Until last year Ald.

Nelson was a Democrat and vice president of the Chicago Federation of Labor. Nelson had been elected for one of the three winners being:

Emerson, 357,860; H. W. Elmore (Deneen candidate), 232,232; Morris Eller (also Thompson candidate), 238,235. John

G. Glenn (Deneen) was runner-up in and some precincts to report.

Crowe Profits Winner.

Edward F. Moore, nominated for the year term as sanitary trustee, was nominee of State's Attorney Crowe and, too, has been prominent in his circles. He won by a plurality of 100,536.

Of the thirteen Municipal court can-candidates nominated, the Thompsonites won seven places, including the short one for which Robert E. McMillan, an assistant state's attorney, was nominated.

Other Thompson candidates came in

in the election of ward committeemen and anti-Lowden delegates.

There was little Democratic conservation in the figures that astounded

the politically wise as well as the politically ignorant.

The combination of William J. Stratton, who quit State for Emerson, and just one of the eye-openers, Stratton, as a candidate for secretary of state, had even defeated Judge Robert

Smith, who is a Chicagoan, in Cook county and was nominated by over 900,000.

The nominations of State Auditor

Emerson, Omer N. Custer for state

treasurer, and Lieut. Gov. Fred E.

Emerson were with the exception of

Emerson-Glenn-Carlstrom camp, their pluralities were around the million mark.

Mayor's Judicial Postponed.

It was these figures that had the Democrats dropping some of their opposite tone about the prospects for the ticket in November if Gov. Al

Smith wins the presidential nomination. Until the returns of Tuesday's election in George E. Brennan and followers had been predicting a strong sweep in November, but now they won't even consider buying the

ALL CITY BOND PROJECTS LOST BY BIG VOTES

Two for Lincoln Park Win Approval.

Both Lincoln park bond issues submitted at Tuesday's election won by extremely narrow margins, complete official returns revealed yesterday, while almost complete figures on the city's $77,565,000 program, as indicated by earlier reports, showed all 31 issues beaten nearly 2 to 1.

Approval of the Lincoln park issues, each for $2,000,000, assures two important lake front improvements. One will go for further extension of the park northward and the other to supplement $3,000,000 already voted to pay Lincoln park's half of the cost of a new bridge at the mouth of the river. Under the new outer drives, the south park system will pay the other $3,000,000.

Vote on Park Bonds.

The final Lincoln park bond vote stood:

Yes ..... $6,394 55,367 1,287
No ..... $5,406 53,339 197

Stunned by the overwhelming defeat of the other projects, the officials who drafted that one, indicated yesterday that the one, reduced in size and more wisely arranged, will be submitted to the voters in June.

"We're down but not out," asserted Michael J. Faherty, head of the board of local improvements which would have spent three-fourths of the money had it been voted. "A mistake was made in overloading the ballot. Only the unfinished street projects should have gone on and I will insist on putting them forward again in June."

Agrees with Faherty.

Al. John Clark (both), chairman of the council finance committee and with Mr. Faherty. Defense of the incomplete jobs, he said, was "a catastrophe" but was only to be expected.

The last available returns on the bond issues—2,350 out of 2,692 precincts—were as follows:

GROUP ONE—$42,354,000.
[Unfinished street projects.] No.
Admiral avenue ..... 179,005 320,948

LINCOLN PARK FIXES SITE FOR OUTER BRIDGE

Location of the new outer drive bridge to link the south and Lincoln park systems was definitely fixed yesterday when Lincoln park commissioners, their regular meeting adopted a resolution choosing route No. 2 of the Chicago Plan commission. This route already has been approved by the south park board.

The plan adopted proposes extension of the south park's outer drive in Grant park across Randolph street to an eastern extension of Wacker drive. From that point the drive would be built eastward to a point near the mouth of the river, there to turn north and connect across the proposed bridge with Lake Shore drive at Ohio street.

Committee Favors Plan.
The resolution was adopted following the recommendation of route No. 2 by the Lincoln park commissioners' special committee which has had the matter under consideration for several months. The route is favored by the plan commission because it costs $2,000,000 less than the proposed route, will be added to a bond issue of $2,000,000 passed in 1925 for the same purpose. The bond issue of $5,000,000 required by the south park board for its share of the construction was approved some time ago and the south park commissioners are ready to proceed with the work.

Obstacles to Immediate Work.

It will be necessary, however, to wait for an act of congress authorizing the commissioners to condemn or purchase a small piece of property on the north bank of the Chicago river before extension of the drive is started there.

Condemnation proceedings against the Chicago Dock and Canal company, which owns property the route will cut through, are another obstacle in the way of immediate construction. Attorneys for the park board say that this litigation may require three months or may take more than a year.

Eugene R. Pike, president of the Lincoln park board, was prevented by illness from attending yesterday's meeting.

Mother of Five Children Ends Her Life by Poison

Mrs. Selma Kruse, 45 years old, the mother of five children, ended her life by drinking poison yesterday in her home at 5805 South Ada street. Her husband, John, a worker in the stock yards, told police she had been suffering from a nervous breakdown.

Mrs. Kruse's eldest child is a son, 21 years old, the youngest is an eight-months-old daughter.

Kidnapped, beaten, and robbed of their fur coats, diamonds and jewelry, and automobile, Mrs. Lichtenstein, pretty 25 year old wife of Fred G. Lichtenstein, a meat packer, and her cousin, Miss Marie Carroll, 22, were picked up by a passing motorist early this morning at 8th street and St. Lawrence avenue and taken to the Grand Crossing station where they told their story to the police.

Mrs. Lichtenstein said she and Miss Carroll left her apartment at 7219 Indiana avenue to drive their car from a vacant lot near by to a garage in the rear.

"The men came from the shadows," she said. "Miss Carroll screamed and one of them knocked her down with a revolver. Then I also screamed and one struck me in the face. They then made us get in the car and drove us to 8th street and St. Lawrence avenue, where we were found."

MAYOR'S DEFEAT MAKES GEORGE'S SUBJECTS HAPPY

Press Pictures Chicago
as City of Terror.

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, April 12 [Thursday].—The feelings that "Big Bill," tyrant of Chicago and arch enemy of the British royal house of Hanover, now called Windsor, has been sent to the mat to take the count is keeping Londoners smiling with glee at what they firmly believe was the inglorious demise of the world's proudest tyrant.

The reports of the election which in the Thompson-Small machine a knockout wallop sent the Fleet street scoundrels into scuttles of delight. The front pages of the afternoon papers were decorated with large portraits of Chicago's mayor as well as world accounts of the "murderous election" that made the massacre of St. Bartholomew's day look like tea for two.

As London Sees Us.

There is a reign of terror throughout the state of Illinois," shudders the Evening Star, proceeding to paint pictures of the murder of the Negro, Oscar Granady, who opposed Mayor Thompson, as well as the kidnaping of candidates and voters, smashing and stealing ballot boxes, picking street corners, and generally piling up political and helpless voters being terrorized and into marking ballots according to instructions.

The single note of disappointment seems to be the fact that the election was marked by only one murder.

See Thompson in Eclipse.

In addition to the double column news splashed most of the important morning dailies print long editorials on Chicago's revolt against Mayor Thompson.

"A miracle has supervened," grieves editorials in the Daily Telegraph, "but whether he resigns or not, he vowed he would if beaten in the election. He may think better of the rash pledge and decide it is his duty as a full blooded American citizen to remain at his post until the last moment, lest by resigning he enable the British emissaries of King George to enjoy the full fruits of their triumph before the appointed hour. But whether he resigns now or chooses to carry on until after the election, he will be an object of ridicule to the world. He may be seriously compromised," adds, "continuously violence continues to reign."

Le Journal, getting really excited, ignored half a dozen first rate mystery crimes of Paris at the moment to tell 2,000,000 readers about the "mobilization in Chicago," relating how "the good city of Chicago which formerly had the World's Fair, and enjoys a world-wide reputation as the great center of the meat industry, has developed a new reputation which is not limited to the stockyards. It is human lives in which that world's sausages metropolis now is specialized."

Congratulates Deacon Chicagoans.

Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express says in an editorial, "Big Bill Thompson has been hit by his fellow citizens of Chicago in a place where it really hurts. All the rest of the world might be joining at him, but he did think that among his own people he was safe, and that was a safe place to stand if he could support him. But his candidates have been bowled over like dominoes, in spite of the utmost parsimony of gunmen, gangsters, kid-savers, bombers, ballot stuffers, hoodlums, plug uglies, and all the other men of the Thompson brigade. It is one of the most scandalous acts of mudslinging in all political history—we congratulate the decent people of Chicago."

The Morning Post says: "Evidently the self-respect of Chicago is tired of being made a byword and laughing stock by its present mayor. It has told him in effect it is his own 'snot' rather than King George's that needs to be kept out of the city."

Relieved Senate Sees End of Frank L. Smith Bugaboo

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., April 11.—[Special.]—Illinois primary results were of absorbing interest in the capital today.

Members of the senate welcomed the defeat of Frank L. Smith as apparently disposing of the Smith case and making possible the eventual seating of an Illinois senator whose credentials are without taint.

Supporters of Frank O. Lowden argued that his vote getting ability in the combination which overthrew the powerful Small-Smith-Crowe-Thompson alliance demonstrates that his nomination for the presidency will assure a winning ticket in November.

It is known that President Coolidge does not relish the linking of his name with the Thompson candidates and platform and it is perfectly satisfied with the outcome.

Senators Smith's Fate.

The impression prevailed that Mr. Smith would not attempt to present his appointive credentials to the senate again.

When Mr. Smith gave up his elective credentials in order to permit Gov. Small to call a special primary and election he was reappointed by the governor. He has not presented these appointive credentials. In view of yesterday's result it is doubtful that he would be given the right of being seated. It is taken for granted that the Smith seat will remain vacant until December when the senator chosen in the November election presents his credentials. The only chance of another senator being seated in the meantime is in the event of the relinquishment of the appointive credentials by Mr. Smith and the appointment of some one else by Gov. Small.

Madden Congratulated.

Representative Madden [Rep., Ill.] was the recipient of congratulations from members of the house as a result of his renomination in the first Illinois district.

In the event of nomination of Secretary of Commerce Hoover for the presidency it was indicated that Madden as a Lowden supporter might be offered the vice presidential nomination.

Deneen Stock Booms.

Suggestions were heard that prestige gained by Senator Deneen [Rep., Ill.] would cause him to be given consideration in making up the Republican national ticket at Kansas City.

In the event of nomination of Secretary of Commerce Hoover for the presidency it was indicated that Deneen as a Lowden supporter might be offered the vice presidential nomination.

"I have now been here for 24 years and have devoted my life to the welfare of the people of the country without respect to class, welfare or creed," said Mr. Madden.

The district from which I come is composed largely of colored people.

They have always been loyal to the country, to every entity. They never prove greater friendliness to me in a greater degree than on the present occasion. I have never hesitated to promote the welfare of the colored race.

I have made no distinction between races and it will be my aim to continue to follow this practice."

The paper intransigent led off with "Eight Thousand Gendarmes Guard Polls in Chicago—Fusillades of Bombs—Elections a la Americaine."

AN ELECTION TALK WITH TRIBUNE READERS.

THE TRIBUNE feels that there has been a political reassociation of it and its readers and that it took place in time to avoid an intolerable situation and avert unendurable consequences.

It should be apparent that this newspaper and the citizens have in the main the same purposes with respect to public life and government. The object is the maintenance of a praiseworthy administration and honest legislation. It is of primary importance what particular persons shall be given authority and responsibility, but that the persons so trusted shall be competent and willing to conduct public affairs honestly with regard to public funds and successfully with regard to public security.

There will be differences of opinion as to public policy, but THE TRIBUNE and a majority of the citizens of Illinois at no time have opposite views of what are the elemental requirements of government in the state. In supporting these requirements, THE TRIBUNE has tried to inform and persuade, having in the very nature of the newspaper business, larger opportunities to gather information than are possessed by the body of citizens.

A general recognition of the community of interests and purposes came just in time to put Illinois back on its balance when it was in danger of a complete collapse. The confident rascals of Illinois were convinced that they were protected from public disapprobation and could definitely count on approval of whatever outrage they wished to perpetrate against public security, public money, political rights, and the life and property of the individual.

They had combined privileged corporate wealth and privileged vice and crime in an organized effort against public rights, public morals, and public security. They had given privileges to one and immunity to the other and were taking toll from both in return. Thus organized, they were seeking an endorsement from the people, either deluding them or frightening them into compliance on the one hand or submission on the other. A success meant that Illinois and Chicago were distinctively disgraced, dishonored, and endangered in the American commonwealth and that in this state there was the greatest failure of democracy the republic had known. Suppose, in retrospect of a genuine calamity avoided and for guidance when danger recurs, as it may, we consider a few of the circumstances.

In preparation for Tuesday's election, Gov. Small had required the legislature to pass a bill repealing the section of a state law by which his tenure of office could be attacked in the courts and he be removed because he had cheated the state and taken its money.

State's Attorney Crows, with Small's assistance, had put through an act restricting the calling of special grand juries.

Samuel Insull had invested $150,000 in the political aspirations of Frank L. Smith, the chairman of the Illinois commerce commission, and $5,000 in William Hale Thompson's political organizations. Samuel Ettelson, from Mr. Insull's law firm, the firm through which political investments had been made, was Mr. Thompson's corporation counsel. The street car bills for a perpetual franchise were drawn in Mr. Insull's law offices and given to Ettelson in the city hall. They had failed once in the legislature, but Small had promised Thompson, Ettelson, and Insull to call a special session of the legislature after the primaries to pass them. An increase in elevated fares had been applied for before Small's commerce commission.

We are repeating these facts because they, with others, cumulate to show the people of Illinois what they confronted and what they smashed. Small had gained immunity. Crows had usurped power of prosecution. Thompson had the police force. Small had the pardoning power. They had the legislature in subordination. The money had been paid in the traction deal. It was waiting a receipt of the election for its fulfillment.

With control of pardons, police, and prosecution, the combination, having made its arrangements with public utilities, made its other necessary arrangements with crime and vice. The campaign was to be terrorized. It was to be dominated by machine guns and bombs. Precincts were to be carried by killers, gamblers, prostitutes, and male brothel house keepers. They were to take their profits out of the degradation of city morals. They were to intimidate the decent citizenship. They were to keep people from going to the polls. The murder of Esposito, the bombing of the home of Judge Swanson and the attempt on his life, and the bombing of the home of Senator Denen were announcements of what vice and crime had been turned loose to do in the precincts April 10.

The TRIBUNE confesses that here was something in truth terrifying. This newspaper had fought the growth and development of it, but in twelve years it had reached further out each year. The checks which could be given it were imponent. For reasons which in themselves were dismaying, THE TRIBUNE could not bring a majority of the voters of Illinois to see what frightful consequences they were bringing down on themselves by their refusal to protect themselves in their elections.

People even took some satisfaction in seeing the failure of just newspaper criticism and of self-evident facts. If that was to continue, the immunity of reptilian politics was found in the very exposure of criminal acts and it was the critic who was in danger and not the criminal.

Any one who saw the thugs and killers of the criminal world and the creatures of vice come out into the open Tuesday at the polling places or patrol the streets in cars with guns knew that this danger was not theoretical or rhetorical. The stake was enormous. The plunder was so rich that it invited any desperate act to lay hands on.

The question was whether in this primary election there would be a repetition in results of the previous campaign in which a strange blindness or perversity of opinion would protect the most dangerous combination of politics and crime which ever threatened an American state. It seemed incredible that such could be the case, but what was there in experience to create real confidence that it would not be?

It may be confessed now that THE TRIBUNE undertook this renewal of its fight against this heretofore successful alliance with the prospects of having to protect its own personnel if the people gave another vote of confidence in the combination which controlled police, pardoning, and prosecuting authority. There was no protection for any citizen in that case who exposed the villainies of Illinois and Chicago politics or who opposed them.

Government for the guarantee of rights, the protection of life, and public security would have disappeared. Opposition would have been handed with machine gun fire and bombs. A disclosure of rascality would have been followed by an explosion at the front door. Political opposition would have been quieted with sawed off shotguns. Reputable citizens would have been slugged at the polls.

It was against this that the voters arose in a storm of indignation, in a return to old-time savagery in voting, in protection of themselves and their institutions.

We think it is fair to say that THE TRIBUNE was right this time in its advocacy of principles against rascality, it was right before it was opposed these men and exposed their acts. It is probably true that the public mind responds slowly. In that there may be an instinct for fairness, but it influences unwisely when it gives protection for destruction of government.

With this accomplished revolt of Illinois citizens, Illinois seems a cleaner state and certainly is a safer one.

SIG. ETTELSON, SONGBIRD.

Mr. Insull, even before he returns from England, will no doubt have concluded that Mr. Ettelson, as corporation counsel can no longer be of much service to him. Mr. Ettelson, it is true, may continue to supervise the drafting of traction legislation and franchises, but as none of the Ettelson measures now has more than an outside chance of being acceptable either to the legislature or the voters of Chicago, Mr. Insull will be tempted to find a new field in which to employ his man Sammy's talents.

Happily for the community, Mr. Ettelson in the campaign demonstrated hitherto unsuspected abilities. If Sam, as utility magnate, has no further use for Sammy, Sam as opera impresario can add Sammy to his string of tenors. Sam has had occasion in the past to use Sammy as a cash register; he can now employ him as an upper, middle, and low register.

Let it be admitted that Sammy's repertoire is, as yet, limited to the fourteen principal stanzas of "Big Bill the Builder." It will be recalled that when Mr. Thompson was in what can be termed a mood of justified despondency immediately preceding primary day, Sammy sang all fourteen and restored the Thompson spirits. That was no mean accomplishment, and it indicates how moving must be Sammy's tone quality. The mind leaps for comparison to David smoothing the furrows from Saul's brow with songs.

We cannot resist the temptation to speculate upon roles in which Sammy may be expected to shine. The Meistersinger occurs at once. No one will protest if he substitutes "Big Bill the Builder" for Walther's somewhat hackneyed prize song. Then there is Lohengrin, a grateful role, for it concerns one who was at least as reluctant as Sammy to mention names. We can think of two suitable parts in "Faust," and there is hardly an opera of the Italian school in which there is not a lackey's role he can fill acceptably, provided he has the calves for tights.

Attactice as are these prospects, we must insist that he give his attention first to the bull fighter in "Carmen." Indeed, there is reason to believe he knows the rôle already.

Editorial of the Day

BLAMING IT ON THE WAR.

(Poenia Transcript.)

The advocacy of a payment to farmers of "adjusted compensation" because of their losses during the war is calculated to make friends for Senator Davis, Republican of Wisconsin, who thinks it would be good plug.

"I regard agriculture as a war casualty," Senator Blaine said. "I think we should take care of agriculture as such. Agriculture lost the legs upon which it stood as a result of the war. As a casualty of war, therefore, it seems to be the duty of the government to make restitution."

"Agriculture is entitled to adjusted compensation for the sacrifice it made in behalf of the government."

Senator Blaine is not the only American who believes the war should be blamed for many things. A school of sociologists, a faction of the economists, and quite a large element of the American people are sure that the war should bear the brunt.

The war, however, cannot bear the entire blame for the collapse of the agricultural boom which marked its early months. In fact, if the war was entirely to blame for agriculture's setback, it was also to blame for the high prices of land and the stupendous speculation which marked the early reactions of agriculture to the conflict.

Agriculture is no more a war casualty than industry. Indeed, many farmers who sold their land during the boom days are now living quite comfortably in California. Renters who attempted too much or those who went land crazy when prices were mounting have suffered. Others, who neither bought nor sold land, got good prices for their produce during the war, and now they find the going tough they have only to realize that any war always results in maladjustments.

Senator Blaine is generous and persuasive. But the war can be blamed for almost everything. To argue that agriculture needs "adjusted compensation" is tantamount to suggesting that we pay for the war all over again because we were in.

HYBRIDIZATION OF HUMANS.

ONE of the most difficult questions is that of hybridization of humans.

In June, 1926, the managers of the Draper Fund decided to investigate the effect of mixing white and black blood.

They selected Jamaica as their field of work.

They picked out three hundred adults and 3,500 children, and they applied to them every accepted test.

They will make their report this week, according to a statement in the Draper Fund's annual report.

Portions of the report will appear from time to time during this year in that magazine.

The study in its entirety will be published in book form.

Meanwhile, this subject of mixing breeds was discussed at the January meeting of the Galtont society, by Drs. C. B. Davenport and C. R. Stockard.

Dr. Davenport said, among other things:

"In 16 offspring from two strictly mated parents one may be expected to be white, one black, and 14 of colors varying from sambo to quadroon."

Some combinations of social, mental and physical qualities in mixed breeds will be advantageous and others disadvantageous.

The feeling of racism and racialism is frequently displayed by politicians.

It is due to the inheritance of qualities that do not mix but are always at cross purposes, one type of quality being inherited from the white parent and the other from the black one."

Negroes are superior physically to whites in their resistance to some diseases; they are inferior in their resistance to others, such as tuberculosis and syphilis.

The cross breeds suffer from a conflict of instincts out of which grows some weakness.

Crosses between Chinese and Japanese are better than individuals of either breed from which they descend.

Crosses between Hawaiians and Filipinos are less satisfactory.

The crosses between Scandinavians and Lapps is very susceptible to consumption.

The crosses between Europeans and East Indians, called Eurasians, are somewhat better than the Indians physically.

They suffer from temperamental conflicts that oftentimes ruin their lives.

The cross between the American Indian and the French Canadian produces exceptionally good individuals.

The principle which causes the good effect of this cross is known scientifically as heterosis.

When Dr. Stockard took the floor, he talked learnedly and at length about the crossing of breeds of lower animals and especially dogs. When it came to crossing human beings, he said he would have to see more evidence before he could form an opinion.

NATION'S PRESS
MAILS BIRTH OF
A NEW CHICAGOCongratulates City and State on Primary.Editorial comment by papers throughout the country on the Illinois primary result follows:New York Times—The political ravage in Chicago came as a surprise to most political observers. They had thought that the city was disgraced but recovered. The people were not very much, but they were framing a new party. Not for years has a political election been so wholesome and refreshing. It testifies to the ability of the voters to pierce through political shams and humbug.New York World—The primary in Chicago was a victory for decency. The voters give a pleasant feeling. Shaking majorities are clear evidence that the Illinois Republicans are disgusted with the shameless greed, and violence of the gang sters in power.New York Evening Post—Chicago, the world has come to know it from the reflection of William Hale Johnson, has been swept up and out of the window by the voters in the Republican primaries. The victories and the thanks of voters go today to the voters of Chicago.New York Evening Sun—Only one man could have made the Republicans in Illinois more satisfying. If William Thompson had only been run for mayor! As it is, his organization received a tremendous licking.
He has said that he would resign immediately if Crowe lost. It is too bad to hope that this promise will not be kept.New York Evening World—The primary election results will cheer the rank and file of the Illinois Democrats through the country. It cannot but prove a great day's work for Chicago politically in the housecleaning line.Goodwill Plain Dealer—When Chicago is ready to give the plunder of the bum's rush it surely does it with a will. No better measure than your lesson. Just what! And what's done. We can think of no better article in the whole wide world than this delayed chastisement of the man-faced Bill and his buffoonish allies.Washington Star—In Illinois the voters were right yesterday. Illinois politics—more particularly Chicago politics—had become a stench in the nostrils of the nation. We saw a challenge to government in the primary election day was cleanup day in Chicago and the state of Illinois. The primary made a rough day for Chicago.St. Louis Post Dispatch—Primary election day was cleanup day in Chicago and the state of Illinois. The primary made a rough day for Chicago.REED, NOT MEREDITH, REAL RIVAL OF SMITH
FOR IOWA DELEGATES

Waterloo, Ia., April 11.—(P)—Walter W. Reed, former Democratic national committee man from Iowa, declared today that Senator T. M. Reed of Missouri and not George T. Meredith of Iowa is the real contender against Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York for the 36 delegates from Iowa to the national convention at Houston.

"In Meredith's candidacy for Democratic nomination he has not carried a single congressional district in Iowa," Mr. Reed said. "A recapitulation of the votes of delegates to the state convention reveals that Senator James A. Reed of Missouri received more votes than Meredith."

"When Meredith ran for governor of Iowa on the Democratic ticket, he carried only one county in the state."

Mr. Reed said his statement was in reply to remarks made by Mr. Meredith in Baltimore yesterday.

GERMAN PLANE HOPS OFF FROM DUBLIN FOR U. S.

Passes Out to Sea with Three Aboard.

maurice arranged at the last moment to have a dozen peeled oranges in cluded.

Statement by Fitzmaurice. Before Col. Fitzmaurice's fellow officers rushed him off to bed for a few hours' sleep last night the aviator gave a special message regarding his flight.

"Tell them," he said, "that for several years, as chief of the Free State air corps, it has been my ambition to make the east-west Atlantic crossing in the interests of advancement of science and aviation."

"I am looking forward to an American welcome to a Free State air corps man Friday afternoon."

Facts of Flight.

Here are some of the facts of the flight:

The plane: A Junkers, all-metal monoplane with a wing spread of 55 feet, the name Bremen painted on its side with the number D1167, and the triangular sign of the Junkers firm.

The motor: A Junkers L-5 water-cooled, of 350 horsepower, won the world endurance flight record in a sister ship, the Europa.

French Flyers Hop for Basra. KARACHI, India, April 11.—[UPI]—Dieudonne Costes and Joseph Lebrun, French trans-Atlantic aviators now flying from Tokio to Paris, arrived here tonight and took off almost at once for Basra, Mesopotamia, on a night flight. They hope to reach Paris Friday.

The aviators, making great progress, had to turn back down for Jodhpur, where they reached without difficulty. They halted there only for a brief look at their plane and then came on to Karachi.

THE HAGUS, April 11.—Nine of ten passengers were seriously injured when a two motored Fokker airplane owned by the Royal Dutch Air Line was wrecked near Utrecht this afternoon. The plane, which was intended for service between Denmark and Holland, was undergoing a trial flight from Copenhagen to Holland.

MARIA BLANCA, Argentina, April 11.—[UPI]—Two airplanes participating in festivities celebrating the hundredth anniversary of the founding of this city crashed in midair today. Both pilots were killed.

NORRIS TICKET WINS NEBRASKA; HOWELL VICTOR

Omaha, Neb., April 11.—[UPI]—The progressive wing of the Republican party fared well at the hands of Nebraska voters in yesterday's statewide primaries.

Topping all races was the contest between United States Senator R. E. Howell and Attorney General O. S. Spillman for the Republican senatorial nomination.

The progressive group, aligned with Senator Norris, won five out of seven delegates to the Republican national convention and about half of the district delegates.

Former United States Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, only Democratic presidential preference candidate in Nebraska, had the solid support of the state's delegation to the Democratic national convention.

Rep. J. W. Bryan, Falls City, Neb., president of the Missouri River Navigation association, Republican, will oppose Charles W. Bryan, Lincoln, former governor, for election as Nebraska's next governor.

URGE REPEAL OF TAX ON AUTOS IN SENATE HEARING

Washington, D. C., April 11.—[Special.]—Automobile manufacturers and users joined today in urging repeal of the 2 per cent tax on motor cars before the senate finance committee in opposition to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon's recommendation that it be retained.

Witnesses included Roy D. Chapin, president of the National Automobile chamber of commerce, made up of manufacturers; Thomas P. Henry, president of the American Automobile association, consisting of dealers; George T. McCallum, vice chairman of the motor bus division of the American Automobile association; Warren E. Griffith, vice president of the National Automobile Dealers' association, and Fred Brinckman, on behalf of the farmers composing the national grange.

PREMIER KING OF CANADA FAVORS CHICAGO SEAWAY

Speakers in Parliament Boost Scheme.

BY GEORGE SMITH.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service) OTTAWA, Ont., April 11.—Premier King of Canada was in the unanimous proposal for a seaway from Atlantic tidewater, through the St. Lawrence, and to the head of the great lakes. Furthermore, he believes such development, which will give Chicago an outlet to the ocean, is bound to come.

For the first time Mr. King made known his personal attitude today in winding up the debate on a resolution by Thomas Church, Toronto conservative, demanding "immediate negotiations with the United States for a seaway treaty."

The premier assured the commons the caution and secrecy being exercised with respect to present preliminary Canadian-American seaway negotiations was for the precise purpose of not prejudicing considered judgment upon what he characterized as "one of the biggest projects Canada is ever likely to be called upon to face."

Will Publish Correspondence.

Debate on the Church seaway resolution was postponed at the request of the premier, who pointed out that discussion was premature until the Canadian-American seaway correspondence is made public. This, Mr. King assured, would be done Monday night, both in the United States and Canada.

Before the premier requested postponement, the debate was opened by one of them, Henri Deslauriers, a Montreal Liberal, who spoke in French, could be construed as opposing development. And he was not very emphatic in his objections, stressing mainly that eminent engineers were said to have technical objections to the scheme.

The other six speakers were Premier King; Mr. Church of the Liberal; Horatio Hockin, Toronto, Conservative; Robert Manion, Fort William, Conservative; Reginald Gearty, Toronto, Conservative, and John Miller, Qu'Appelle, Saskatchewan.

Point Benefits to Canada.

Let us say Mr. Church the Toronto members besides the idea of seaway development as one that could bring untold commercial and financial benefits to the dominion as a whole and prove an especial boon to the wheat growers of the Canadian western prairies in the overseas marketing of their product. Mr. Church charged the government with what he declared to be its unreasonable delay in

CHAIN OF SEADROMES TO GIVE N. Y. 36 HOUR AIR SERVICE TO EUROPE

New York, April 11.—[Special] A syndicate to construct and operate a chain of seadromes or landing floats across the Atlantic ocean, to provide thirty-six hour service by airplane between New York and Europe, was reaching the final stage of organization in New York City today.

The agreement for the financing, management, operation and other details will be signed Friday and within two months the first seadrome will be anchored 500 miles out as the first link.

This project is the work of E. R. Armstrong, chief engineer of the DuPont company of Delaware.

getting negotiations started. Mr. Hockin declared every dollar of transportation saving would go into the pockets of the farmers who mainly would benefit. And with a deepened St. Lawrence, he visualized ports along the route becoming the milling centers of America.

GRANDMOTHER IS EXONERATED IN FIRE FATAL TO 4

Mrs. C. B. Whitaker, 88 years old, mother of Leslie Whitaker, whose home at 2638 North Mulligan avenue was burned early Tuesday morning, causing the deaths of his wife and three children, was exonerated of blame for the fire by police following an inquiry yesterday.

"We have no evidence whatever to indicate that the older Mrs. Whitaker was responsible for the fire," said Capt. James E. Doherty of Cragin police. "She was a rancher in Montana, operating a ranch 40 miles from Helena, on the Boulder river."

During the war he spent more than two years in active service in France, was decorated by the French government for distinguished service in removing the wounded under fire at Verdun. He and his chum, Wilbur Hightower, enlisted together in the ambulance service and provided their own ambulances.

Mrs. Hutchins His Bride in Home Wedding.

John Lorrie Patten, only son of James A. Patten, son of the wheat king, yesterday married Mrs. Renee Michael Hutchins of the Edgewater Beach hotel, in a quiet ceremony at his parents' home, 1425 Ridge avenue, Evanston. The Rev. A. S. C. Clark, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Evanston, officiated.

Immediately the bridal couple left for a honeymoon trip, refusing to disclose their plans or their destination.

Member of Board of Trade.

Jack Patten, as he is better known, is 32 years of age and is following the example of his father in a business way. He is a member of the Chicago Board of Trade for several years before coming into the grain business.

He was a rancher in Montana, operating a ranch 40 miles from Helena, on the Boulder river.

During the war he spent more than two years in active service in France, was decorated by the French government for distinguished service in removing the wounded under fire at Verdun. He and his chum, Wilbur Hightower, enlisted together in the ambulance service and provided their own ambulances.

A DOCTRINE IN WHICH SOME NOTABLE ADVERTISERS HAVE DISCOVERED PROFIT POSSIBILITIES

There's a portrait of the family in Mother's shopping list

THE WANTS, the hopes, the desires of the family are pictured in Mother's shopping list. And that list is more than a prosaic catalog of products. It is a composite portrait of the family.

You can read there of Dad's fondness for ox-tail soup. A bottle of liniment (large size) can only mean that Son is trying for the ball team. While the gossamer-thin silk stockings for Daughter tell of a coming dance. Real things for real people. For a family is neither a "buying unit," nor a digit in a circulation statement. A family is people. And it has as many likes, dislikes and opinions as it has members.

That is why the products which are known and trusted by every member of the family appear first and oftenest on Mother's shopping list. The more members of a family that are sold, the quicker a family buys.

It is that doctrine which recently has led the most successful advertisers to consider not only the circulation figures of a given publication but the number of people in each family who read the publication.

To establish those facts many investigations have been made by advertisers and independent organizations. In every case, of which we know, The American Magazine led every other publication in all-family appeal.

As a woman's magazine alone, it usually ranks second or third. As a man's magazine, first or second. But in its combined reading by fathers, mothers and young people it is overwhelmingly first.

THE importance of the all-family appeal of The American Magazine is evidenced by the fact that such notable advertisers as Colgate, Heinz, Royal Baking Powder, Johns-Manville, National Piano Manufacturers Association, Cream of Wheat, and Dunlop Tires are either using The American Magazine for the first time in 1928 or have greatly increased their American Magazine advertising.

May we present to you the facts that convinced those advertisers that The American Magazine, at one advertising cost, reaches not only Mother but her group of consumers?

How to reach the "Two or More"

From the most unusual marketing investigation ever undertaken, we learned the significant fact that two or more members of the average family dictate the selection of most of the merchandise the family buys.

For example, in 73% of 952 families questioned, two or more members influenced the purchase of a piano. In 59% of the families, two or more members influenced the choice of ham and bacon. In 67% of the families two or more members influenced the selection of hosiery.

Obviously, then, most advertisers should use those publications which reach "two or more members" of the family. By every test, the magazine that does that most effectively is The American. Investigations, including those conducted recently by five leading universities, prove The American Magazine overwhelmingly first in its combined reading by all the family.

Here's the secret for saving your house

The same prescription . . . filled by the same two partners—the skilled painter and pure lead paint—always gives the same result . . . a weather-proof house

DOES your house need paint? Then hesitate no longer. Delay means abandoning it to the weather which knows no mercy . . . and shows none.

Call in a skilled painter . . . the man who always prescribes pure lead paint. With lead paint as his partner and his own skill with the brush, he will save your home and your dollars.

They're a great pair . . . the painter and lead paint, the kind made with pure white-lead, such as Dutch Boy. They have been partners for generations. They will put a paint film on your house that is tough . . . durable . . . weather-proof . . . that does not crack or scale . . . that is economical in every way.

This trademark, a guarantee of high quality, is on all Dutch Boy products—white-lead, red-lead, linseed oil, flattening oil, solder and babbitt metal. It is the trademark of National Lead Company which manufactures lead products for the many uses for which lead is especially fitted in art, industry, and daily life.

Dutch Boy white-lead, in either heavy paste or soft paste form, is sold by leading paint dealers.

Mixed with linseed oil, it produces a superior gloss paint for exterior use. Mixed with Dutch Boy flattening oil, it makes a thoroughly washable flat paint for interiors. In either case, the paint can be colored to exactly the tint or shade you desire.

'KILL YANKS,' CRY NIGHT RIDERS IN NICARAGUA

3,500 Marines in Field to Guard Foreigners.

BY LOUIS ROSENTHAL.
(Copyright, 1923, By The Chicago Tribune.)
MANAGUA, Nicaragua, April 11.—United States marines are now guarding American and other foreign residents of the Matagalpa district, who became alarmed when night riders plundered trees within a radius of 20 miles of Matagalpa with cards bearing the inscription, "Kill All Americans! Americans Are Enemies of Nicaragua."

The Americans were warned by the marine commandant at Matagalpa to remain on their farms for two days, while further patrols were dispatched to cover the entire area. No rebels were found.

Practically all the settlements, towns, and departments of Matagalpa, Masaya, and Nueva Segovia now are occupied by marines. Patrols are constantly patrolling the roads.

3,500 Marines in Field.

More than 3,500 marines constitute the field forces. Within two weeks enough supplies will have been dispatched to troops in the field to last until December.

Marine combat and patrol planes still fly over all the northern departments daily. The Fokker transport plane has been out on several times near Esmeralda, but no large groups of marines have been seen.

Get Election Funds.

The first funds for the McCoy election were received today, when the National Bank of Nicaragua loaned $10,000 to the government, to be guaranteed by surplus revenues of the government.

At the same time $100,000 was loaned by the National bank to the government to provide necessary funds needed by the national guard, which is officered by Americans.

High Schools' Music Fete at Orchestra Hall April 13

The annual music festival of Chicago high schools will be held Friday evening in Orchestra hall, it was announced yesterday by O. E. Robinson, chairman of the high school concert committee. A picked orchestra of 300 pieces, a girls' chorus of 250, and a cappella chorus of 500, and a boys' chorus of 250 will take part in the program. The concert is sponsored by the board of education and is open to the public.

This is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards invented Olive Tablets, the substitute for Calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years and calomel's old-time favorite, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing soothing vegetable laxative mixed with olive oil.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "tired brown mouth"—bad breath, dull, tired feeling, sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them, 15c, 30c, 60c.

COURT REFUSES TO HEAR GIRL IN WILSON SHOOTING

Causes Court Scene; Wife Held to Grand Jury.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service) New York, April 11.—[Special]—A pretty, indignant young woman threw the West Side court into a turmoil today and for a few startled minutes the lawyers, magistrate, and spectators alike thought the long delayed social fireworks were about to explode in the Dallett Wilson shooting case.

The spectators were in no mood for a scandal in New York high life, for they had had enough of it, according to a high pitch by the most enterprising references to "bootlegging, activities and payments of huge sums to ship crews." Then, too, there had been reports that Mr. Wilson's name had been linked with the Teapot Dome oil scandal in Washington.

Hold to Grand Jury.

But nobody would ask Gladys Bowe, the star witness, any questions and the excitement subsided almost as quickly as it had arisen. A few minutes later, Mrs. Esther Evans De Forest, Wilson, 49, year old big game hunter and explorer, was held in $10,500 bail for action by the grand jury on charges of felonious assault and violation of the Sullivan law.

The charged great out of the shooting of Mr. Wilson's husband, Dallett A. Wilson, prominent attorney and adviser to the Republican national committee, on March 23, in his offices in 5th avenue.

Refuses to Hear Girl. Miss Bowe is the mysterious young woman who called at the city hospital to see Wilson shortly after he was taken there, wounded, from his office. She appeared suddenly in the crowded courtroom, and announced she wished to testify. Lawyers for both sides immediately waived examination of the witness.

Then Miss Bowe became angry. She shouted at the top of her voice: "I will take the stand. I will be heard. My name has been dragged into this case and I have a statement to make."

There was great confusion as Magistrate Corrigan rapped for order. Leaning over the desk rail he pointed his finger in the girl's face and said: "No, you won't be heard. This isn't the play 'Chicago.' We will have decorum here. Step off the stand."

Miss Bowe, crestfallen, obeyed. She tossed her blonde head and walked rapidly from the courtroom, followed by a crowd of reporters and her lawyer, Louis F. Vinger. He had been sent to talk to the newspaper men, her lawyer explained that Wilson was buried for the Bowe family. He said the day of the shooting Miss Bowe called at the Wilson offices on business and when she found the attorney had been shot she visited him in the evening at the hospital. He added the young woman resented having her name dragged into the case.

Saw Wife Remove Papers. Two of the girls were permitted to testify, but they threw no light on Mrs. Wilson's often repeated charge that her husband had been "a great entertainer of women." They were Goldie Miller, 21, and Mrs. John W. Johnson, telephone operator. They swore that Mrs. Wilson, while waiting for her husband on the day he was shot, had removed some of the files from the office. They also testified they heard Mrs. Wilson admit to the policeman who first arrived that she had shot her husband.

It developed that the question of the removal of the files from the Wilson office was brought up by the lawyers in a search for a little brown memo

Cadman Opera Over the Radio Delights Elmer

He Finds Other Laudable Programs.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

The unexpected broadcast of Cadman's cantata-opera, "The Sunset Trail," sung by the American Opera company, Studebaker theater, through WENR, 8:30 to 9 o'clock, deserves first consideration over the other unusually important concert programs last evening.

It is a newly composed opera with American Indian coloring, and decidedly different from anything in opera or otherwise that we know. Above all, this short work abounds in animation; expression in compressed scoring; in structure and intensification of vocal and orchestral tone, in rapidly changing and contrasting elements, solo, duet, ensemble.

On this first hearing, the orchestral music was the most beautiful. Wagnerian tones and massed effects constantly were suggested.

The opera is gloomy rather than tragic. There is a melancholy, a hopelessness about that does not inspire but leaves one unpleasantly depressed. Yet we are glad for having heard this work and deeply indebted to those responsible for it for its broadcast.

We are likewise indebted to Swift & Co. male chorus for their fine concert from WLS, 9 to 9:45. Half of the program was devoted to madrigals, including a fine rendering of the recent prize winning madrigal, "Blow, Blow, Thou Winter Wind," [Peele], wherein the piano took the rôle of the wind. There also were many works by modern and living composers, including Chicago's own versatile Daniel Protheroe. Here was a magnificent program and rarely find singing by a male chorus. For the most part there was no accompaniment.

Another treat for the musical ear was the program by the W-G-N string quartet, 9:30 to 10. After introducing themselves in selections by Bach and Handel, a flute and clarinet joined the quartet, playing a tremendously interesting "Tarantella" by Saint-Saëns—a selection from which dancing masters and jazz writers could learn much in the way of new steps and new jazz orchestra coloring effects.

On the W-G-N 7:30 to 8 studio program there were some trumpet duos, immensely lovely to hear. It was announced that we should be on the watch for further quartet and special feature programs of this kind. That's good news. Music of this kind is good and we do not hear enough of it in proportion to worth.

The engineer of the outbound train, who is charged with running past the signals, is confined in jail, after a personal investigation conducted by M. Barthou, minister of justice.

There were no American casualties. The wreck provided a spectacular blaze and thrilling rescue work, by firemen and wrecking crews. Some of the bodies were pinned under the smoking debris, and service was interrupted on the road for several hours. Pitiful scenes were witnessed. A little fox terrier howled dismally and refused to leave the train, which was burning fiercely. Though an attempt was made to pull the terrier away, he was buried to death.

Commonwealth Edison Company announces its 14th voluntary REDUCTION IN RATES for residential electric service

Through a new schedule of rates filed by the Commonwealth Edison Company with and approved by the Illinois Commerce Commission, to take effect with all meter readings after April 1, 1928, the people of Chicago will save $1,300,000.00 annually on their electric light bills.

THIS fourteenth voluntary reduction is in accord with the policy of the Company to reduce its rates as rapidly as reductions can be made consistent with good service and giving due consideration to the interests of those who have money invested in its properties.

This saving will be effected in two ways, first, through a reduction in the rate from 8c, 5c and 3c (net) per kilowatt hour to 7c, 5c and 3c (net). Second, by computing the first and second rate kilowatt hours on the number of rooms in the home instead of using the estimated or metered maximum demand which has been the practice heretofore.

The new rate will be 7c (net) per kilowatt hour for electricity used in any month equivalent to or less than the first 3 kilowatt hours per room—5c (net) per kilowatt hour for additional electricity used in the month equivalent to or less than the next 3 kilowatt hours per room—3c net per kilowatt hour for all electricity used in any month in excess of the equivalent of the first 6 kilowatt hours per room. The number of rooms counted in determining the charges shall be based upon the Chicago Real Estate Board's ordinary method of rating the number of rooms in a house or apartment.

A careful residential survey has been made and it was found that a large majority of the customers, over a period of a year, will receive a reduction in their bills.

For the purpose of figuring the bill for electricity, the "room-rate" basis is simpler and more understandable. It also enables the user to have more outlets for increasing his lighting facilities and for using a variety of electrical conveniences, without affecting the maximum demand rating of his home.

However, the new schedule does not cancel the old one. If, after trying the new rates, any customer feels that his bills are not reduced thereby, he may again have his charges computed under the old rate upon application.

A complete detailed schedule may be obtained at the office of the Company or at any of its Branches where bills are payable.

MINISTERS CALL TRIBUNE UNFAIR IN WET POLICY

Methodists Bare Results of Newspaper Survey.

Printed as "admittedly a wet newspaper, using all its vast resources against prohibition," THE TRIBUNE was singled out from Chicago's daily newspapers as the chief object lesson in the "unfair treatment" of the prohibition question in a survey conducted by the Chicago Methodist Preachers' association, made public yesterday.

The survey, the study of the editorial and news columns, headlines and contents of Chicago newspapers from the middle of January until March 1, made to discover the policy of these newspapers on the prohibition question, was conducted by the public policy committee of the association and accepted by the organization Monday, with the restriction that it be kept secret until after the primary election.

Attack on News Treatment.

"The Tribune's editorial policy is decidedly wet; favors the repeal of the 18th amendment and the modification of the Volstead act," the report says. "It is opposed to the Anti-Saloon League and all enforcement organizations, endeavors to weaken enforcement, and largely identifies prohibition with Protestant churches.

"In its news columns it features all items unfavorable to enforcement, and gives little space to all items not favorable to its policy. Its headlines are often unfair and are not supported by the news as printed, generally stressing such part of news as is unfavorable to the policy."

The findings charged "the holding up to ridicule prohibition and enforcement, the enforcement officers being represented as undesirable persons with epithets such as 'snoper' and 'killer' used."

Right of Opinion.

Recommendations included in the survey urged Methodist preachers to study the problem of prohibition as presented by the Chicago newspapers with the view of giving facts and concrete illustrations to church congregations.

"In determining our final attitude toward any newspaper we bear in mind that prohibition is but one of several social problems in which we are interested as Christian churchmen," the report explains, "and that we assert our rights to express our opinions regarding the treatment of all social questions in any newspaper and include prohibition as one of the elements in a total judgment."

The members of the committee were the Rev. Carl D. Gage, pastor of the Lincoln Park church; the Rev. King D. Bush, pastor of St. James church; the Rev. Gilbert Cox, pastor of the Wadsworth church; the Rev. C. H. Daper, pastor of the Lake Forest church; and the Rev. Dr. Clark, pastor of the Community church.

The survey is the outgrowth of a movement attempted last fall among some of the ministers to support only those business firms which did not advertise in wet newspapers.

DIES AT CLINIC

DR. JOHN M. LILLY.

DEATH CLAIMS DR. JOHN LILLY AT MAYO CLINIC

Word was received last night of the death of Dr. John M. Lilly, well known Chicago physician, at the Colonial hospital of the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn. Dr. Lilly was 48 years old. He died on Tuesday following an operation, which was performed after an illness of about a year.

Dr. Lilly was graduated from the medical school of Northwestern university in 1905. He later became an associate professor of medicine there; and also was formerly an associate professor of medicine at Loyola university. He was a member of the staff of Cook county and Mercy hospitals. He was a fellow of the American Medical association and a member of the Chicago and Illinois medical societies.

Dr. Lilly is survived by his widow, Marie C. Lilly, and six small children. John, Margaret, Elizabeth, Mary, Daniel, and Jeanne. The funeral will be held tomorrow at 9 a. m. in St. Catherine of Siena church. Burial will be in Calvary. The family residence is at 143 North Menard avenue.

Hotel Men Here Plan for World's Fair Crowds

Members of the Chicago Hotel association met yesterday at the Congress hotel to discuss plans which will keep Chicago hotels comfortably filled and not either crowded to suffocation or empty and lonesome during the world's fair in 1933. John Burke, head of the association and manager of the Congress hotel, said arrangements will be made to accommodate the big events of the fair through the year—whether possible. Frank Bering of the Hotel Sherman predicted several new hotels by that time, and plenty of room for all comers.

COLBY LEASES CORNER FOR AN EVANSTON SHOP

BY AL CHASE.

Evanston's newest business corner, the northeast intersection of Chicago avenue and Grove street, opposite Raymond Park, is to have an interesting new tenant, John Colby & Sons, Chicago furniture house, at 129 North Wabash avenue. This will be the Colby concern's first establishment and it promises to be an unusually attractive one. The lease is for a short term with option to renew. The new store will open on May 1.

The four story Chaumont building, now nearing completion, was designed by T. H. Marshall, architect. The building will occupy the corner store, which is 18x20. J. L. Corcoran of the Evanston office of Quinlan & Tyson was broker. This firm is manager and renting agent of the property. The lessor is the Cooper-Winston-Manierre trust.

Dr. A. J. Pacini, director of the Pacini laboratories, will speak on "Mechanical Sunshine" before the Architects' Club of Chicago at today's luncheon at the club house, 1801 Prairie avenue.

The American Can company has taken title to a vacant parcel, 50x87 feet, adjoining on the north its present factory at 6005 South Western avenue from the Continental National Bank and Trust company, trustees.

Mrs. Helen E. Critzer has sold the fourteenth room residence, lot 1x129, at 12 East Bellevue place, to Joel W. Ackley of the Bankers' Realty syndicate, at an undisclosed price, for investment.

MISER'S BURIED TREASURE IS DUG UP BY WORKMEN

(Picture on back page.)

Gold coins once buried by Oscar Burdick, known before he died a score of years ago as "the miser" of Evanston, were found yesterday in the form of buried treasure by thirty workmen excavating for a new school building in the north shore suburb.

Digging eight feet below the surface, the pick wielded by one of the laborers struck something that grated strangely. He uncovered a small box of considerable size, gold pieces spilling through the hole made by the pick even as it was being pulled up.

In a twinkling thirty workmen were scrambling for the gold coins. Some obtained as much as $200, others got only $5, $10, or $20, having reached in and seized only one piece.

COWBOYS FIND 3 MEN DEAD IN CRASHED PLANE

Kent, Tex., April 11.—(AP)—The mangled bodies of three men were found this morning in the wreckage of a cabin monoplane, by two cowboys on the "X" ranch, six miles south of here.

The men were identified by letters as F. L. Dryer, Fort Worth, Texas; D. M. Lawson, Deputy United States marshal, Manti, Utah, and Edward G. Knapp, Ypsilanti, Mich., who was piloting the plane.

The three were en route to Fort Worth from San Diego, Cal.

It is believed the plane crashed about noon Monday.

From all appearances, the pilot had attempted to land and the tail of the machine struck a creek bank causing the plane to turn over several times.

OPEN BIDS APRIL 30 FOR NEW AIR MAIL ROUTE CONTRACT

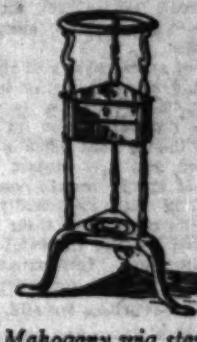

Competitive bids for the contract to carry air mail on the Chicago to Atlanta, Ga., route, which the government recently decided to establish, will be opened in the office of Postmaster Arthur C. Lueder on April 30.

The specifications require that the specific bidder shall provide for intermediate stops at Evansville, Ind., Nashville, Tenn., and Chattanooga, Tenn. Whether the flights shall be made by night or by day has not been determined.

The new route is expected to connect with the Atlanta-Miami and the Atlanta-New Orleans air mail services. On May 1 there is also to be opened regular air mail service between New York and Atlanta.

SUIT TO SMASH
PENNSYLVANIA
KLAN IS VOIDED

Thrown Out of Court by Federal Judge.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 11.—(AP)—The suit of five former members of the Ku Klux Klan to restrain the order from operating in Pennsylvania was thrown out of federal court here late today by Judge W. H. S. Thomson, who ruled that he was, without jurisdiction and that it was a question for the state to settle.

Coming with dramatic suddenness during a heated argument between counsel on the jurisdiction of the court, the opinion made a clean sweep of the court's action of the five men who sought a restraining order for the Klan in Pennsylvania and asked for an accounting of some fifteen million dollars said to have been collected by the order in this state.

The original Klan suit to restrain the five members from interfering with it and asking for $100,000 damages from them, was not affected by the opinion, and trial of this action was continued.

Judge Thomson's opinion climaxed three days of sensational testimony, during which witnesses were charged with hunting men alive in Texas, organizing a "night riders" terrorist branch in Oklahoma and Ohio; horse whipping "offending citizens" and causing riots and other disorders.

Judge Thomson, in throwing out the case against the Klan, held that if charges of lawlessness against the order were sustained, it would not only be the right, but perhaps the duty of the state to revoke the license under which the Klan operates.

GILBERT CONFER ON REPARATIONS

ROME, April 11.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini received S. Parker Gilbert, agent-general for reparation payments, this evening and they talked for about two hours.

It was merely a preliminary courtesy call, as described by one of the members of the Gilbert party, amounting only to the formal presentation of the agent-general's credentials. It has been in conference with Count Velti for several days; it is expected that Italy's attitude with respect to reparations soon will become manifest.

Mr. Gilbert declined to make a personal statement after his call on the duece.

It is understood that Mr. Gilbert plans to remain in Rome for another week or ten days to continue his conversations with the Italian finance minister and other experts, and familiarize himself with the Italian viewpoint, marking time during the period of the French electoral campaign.

3 TELL I. C. C.
NORTH SHORE IS INTERURBAN LINE

Insall Lawyers Hold Bonds Are Valid.

Washington, D. C., April 11.—(Special)—Counsel for the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee Railroad company, a Samuel Insall controlled corporation, placed three witnesses on the stand today before E. C. Boles, examiner of the interstate commerce commission, to prove that the North Shore railroad is in fact an interurban line and not an electrically operated road.

A group of shareholders of the company, owning 2,500 shares of its common stock, have filed a complaint questioning the validity of its securities on the theory that officials of the North Shore line are subject to the provisions of the interstate commerce act, providing that electrically operated railroads must have their financing approved by the interstate commerce commission. Interurban lines are exempt from this provision.

Chair Securities Invalid.

As the North Shore line did not ask the commission to examine its securities, the complaining stockholders are contending before the commission's examiner that all its financing is invalid. While company officials contend they are exempt from the financing provisions of the interstate commerce commission, the stockholders assert that the road has outgrown its status as an interurban line and is now a railroad comparable to steam roads.

300 Million Bonds Affected.

Counsel for both the complainants and the railroad asserted today that the status of approximately 300 million dollars worth of securities issued by electrically operated roads in various parts of the country will be affected by the decision of the commission.

If this line comes under the financing provisions of the interstate commerce act, other lines also will be affected, it was said.

The witnesses who testified today were Edward B. Russell, Chicago investment banker; Bernard J. Fallon, vice president in charge of operations of the North Shore line, and Thomas Conway Jr. of Philadelphia, president of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Electric Traction company.

Washington, D. C., April 11.—(AP)—An expenditure of $8,400,000 for a new office building to adjoin that now used by house members was proposed in a bill today by Representative Dallinger (Rep., Mass.).

The was merely a preliminary courtesy call, as described by one of the members of the Gilbert party, amounting only to the formal presentation of the agent-general's credentials.

CHICAGO April 5, 1928.

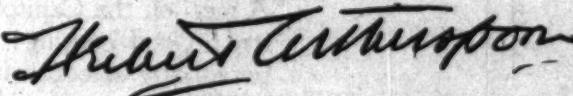

Mr. H. H. Fleer, Vice President,
Lyon & Healy,
Chicago,
Ill.

Dear Mr. Fleer:

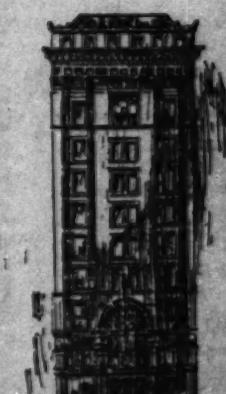

The contract just made with you, whereby the Steinway and Lyon & Healy pianos become the official pianos of the Chicago Musical College, is a source of the greatest satisfaction to me. I have for a great many years been associated with the Steinways, both in a business and social way, and I used Steinway pianos in my New York studios for many years.

In selecting the Steinway and Lyon & Healy pianos for use in the College, I feel confident that we have chosen the best pianos made anywhere in the world, and I believe that both teachers and students will realize what a great privilege they have in using these splendid instruments in their teaching and study.

Sincerely yours,

President

H.W.C.

to bring its Piano equipment up to the standard of its world famous faculty, there was but one choice to make—Steinway, of course! and the dependable Lyon & Healy.

Curiously enough, on the very ground where Chicago Musical College now stands, 64 East Van Buren, the Steinway once had its Chicago headquarters. The College occupies the entire building.

Glorious instruments!—yet so easy to own or to rent. A most attractive plan of deferred payments can be arranged. Your old piano can pay a goodly part

REISELT TRIMS HOPPE, 50-49, IN THRILLING MATCH

Copulos, Reiselt Tied for First Place.

BY HARLAND ROHM.

Two billiard matches last night turned the national three cushion tournament on its proverbial ear. By loss of their games Willie Hoppe and Johnny Layton, who have been leading in the standings since the opening games, dropped to the third, while Otto Reiselt and Gus Copulos moved up to tie for first place. The former have won five and lost two games each, while the third place players have won four and lost two.

Not only did the games shuffle up the standings and pave the way for a possible four or five way tie but it nearly resulted in permanent injury to Hoppe, for in the final crucial moments he almost did a nose dive onto the slate top of the table in disgust when he missed his last consecutive shots at the point that meant victory. Nor did Reiselt escape unscathed, as he nearly chewed out the inside of his cheeks in those final nerve-wrecking moments.

Two Great Matches.
As a matter of record Reiselt defeated Hoppe, 50 to 48, in 63 innings, and Allen Hall won from Johnny Layton, 50 to 51, in 39 innings, but these bare facts tell not a half of the story.

Possibly the fact that Reiselt is champion but many fans consider Hoppe a better three cushion player caused the latter to be the favorite. Hoppe had to win to prove the fans' contention he was the best three cushion player in the nation; Reiselt had to win to prove he was champion. And the result was dynamic drama.

The early part of the match was slow, with the tempo growing in mathematical progression as it moved on.

With both within striking distance of winning, the match grew desperate. The excitement developed as shots missed and appeared with the signs of a Kennedy Derby decided. Hoppe remained cool in the fifty-sixth and added two more and clinched the table with his one when he missed. Reiselt replied with two, the second counting after Hoppe had risen and walked to the table. It was bad sportsmanship; it was more nervousness—Hoppe, the veteran of thousands of cue battles, nervous as a girl, while Reiselt was no better.

Reiselt picked up another point in the sixteen, to tie the score at 48 all after Hoppe had missed two "naturals" and Hoppe replied with one in the next inning. Both were missed off one point and Hoppe missed a simple cushion shot by a hair. That was when he nearly dove into the slate table top. And Reiselt, sighting and re sighting, taking five minutes to a shot, grimacing with nervousness, stepped to the table and scored the needed.

Hall got Fast Start. Hall began to score with the precision of a rifle in a testing wise. In six innings he scored ten billiards; in six innings, twenty; in fifteen innings, thirty; in twenty innings, thirty-five; and in twenty-five innings, forty billiards.

Hall's first magnificent string read like this: 52-201, 04123, 50230, 00060, 00109. After that Hall slowed down, but he had counted three in the thirty-second inning and needed four more. If he got them in that inning and the next he would beat Angie Klockheter's low mark of 35 innings for which there is a prize of $100. In making his fourth shot, a clean one, he got the score. He fired the object ball with his cue. "The referee didn't see it and scored 'good,'" but Hall called the foul on himself and that went a few times for $100.

Three of the contestants finished their affairs in the afternoon, two of them, Arthur Thurnblad and Charles Weston, definitely in ninth and tenth places, respectively. The third, Len Kenney, moved up to sixth place, which he may hold or may be forced to share with two others. In 48 innings.

MOON MULLINS—TOO MUCH UNDER CURRENT

Temperature 60 Required by Spawning Bass

BY BOB BECKER.

Both the pickerel [northern pike if you want to use a name which is a little more highbrow] and the bass pike quite some time before the black bass, as the latter may not spawn until the first week in July in some lakes of the upper peninsula of Michigan. In other words the bass is a warm water fish as far as spawning is concerned, whereas, the eggs of the rough neck pickerel and minnows are laid in fairly cold water early in the spring.

Starting with Illinois and reaching northward to Lake Superior, you will find the black bass raising families beginning at the end of April and from them on to early July, depending on the latitude of the waters and the early or late appearance of warm weather. According to the dope handed out by the fish experts, nest building begins when the temperature of the water is about 65 degrees, but the female bass does not lay her eggs until the water has reached a temperature of 62 degrees.

Take a cold, spring fed lake in northern Wisconsin or the upper peninsula of Michigan, plus a cool front and it may be July 5 or later before the water is warm enough for the bass to spawn. We recall a fisherman who fished a few years ago when we quit bass fishing during the first week in July because in several lakes which we fished, the males were guarding their nests. One day while casting we hooked a beautiful 3 1/2 pounder which proved to be a female bass full of eggs, an addition to her for leaving the nest and turning to spawning.

Michigan fish experts recently completed a survey of the spawning habits of the game fishes in their state with the idea of working out the best opening dates on the various species, as it was felt that in some cases the opening dates were too early. We noticed in their report that lakes in the upper peninsula of Michigan are rarely ready for the fisherman before the first week in July.

Army, Illinois Officials Confer on Game for '29

Dr. Henry Baldwin Ward of the University of Illinois, Dr. A. M. Buswell, chief of the Illinois Water Survey, and Dr. P. R. Blodgett of Chicago Heights, president of the Illinois state division of the Izaak Walton League of America, will be the leading speakers at the national convention of the league at the national convention in Illinois in 1929.

Champaign, Ill., April 11.—[Special]—Maj. Philip Fleming, director of athletics, and Biff Jones, head football coach, representing West Point, conferred today with Director George Huff and Coach Bob Zupke of Illinois regarding football game between the Illini and Army in 1929.

"There is nothing definite to announce," said Director Huff. "A game is under consideration, and today's meeting considered various points in connection with such a contest."

It is understood that the Army is willing to come west to play Illinois in 1929. Soldier Field, Chicago, and the Illinois stadium are suggested as the meeting place. Illinois may prefer to have the game played in its stadium, it is reported.

Illinois' 1928 schedule, already arranged, includes Michigan, Chicago, Iowa, Ohio State, and Northwestern, and the Army game, if played, will be in addition to the card.

GOTHAM SOCCER CHAMPS OFF FOR CHICAGO GAME

Will Battle Brickies in Title Playoff.

New York, April 11.—[Special]—Charley Stoneham's New York National soccer team left tonight for Chicago, where on Sunday afternoon at Soldier's Field it will meet the Chicago Bricklayers in the replay of their last Sunday tie here in the final round of the national challenge cup competition.

In charge of Secretary Nat Fleischer and Business Manager Ernie Viberg the following players made the trip: Pete Renzulli, Jim Warden, Alec Donald, Harry Chatton, Jimmy Martyn, Eddie O'Brien, Edmund Wortman, Bobby Walker, George Henderson, Bart McGhee, Bill Miller, John McKechnie, Matt Wilson, Jimmie Gallagher and Alex McKenna. Trainer Doc Stern and his assistant, Billy Murray, also went along. A group of New York soccer writers will follow them, staying Friday night.

Playing Manager Bob Miller plans at least one change in his starting line-up. McKechnie is sure to see action and there is a possibility of one other shift in the lineup that did duty on the Polo grounds last Sunday.

New York, April 11.—(AP)—The bull market staged one of the most remarkable comebacks in the history of the New York stock exchange today. Stock prices, which reeled yesterday under the staggering blows of bear traders, wavered on a renewal of attacks at the opening of today's market, recuperated over a year ago, consumption of copper larger than ever, gasoline consumption 15 per cent ahead of a year ago, and new high records in stock exchange trading.

The United States Rubber company had a net loss from its own operations in the first quarter of the current year of about $600,000, according to Wall Street reports. Net profit from plantation subsidiaries is estimated by the company at $1,000,000, bringing consolidated net earnings up to $400,000, or less than one-third of dividend requirements on preferred stock.

Robert C. Hill, vice president of the Madera Hill Coal company, has been elected chairman of the board and chairman of the executive committee of the Consolidation Coal company. C. W. Watson retired as president, but remains a director. George J. Anderson was elected president of the Kentucky Alcohol corporation, a subsidiary of the National Distillers Products corporation, has announced prices for denatured alcohol for September and December delivery as 44 cents a gallon in tank cars and 46 cents in 500-lb. carload lots. Present prices are 41 to 45 cents a gallon.

Marmon Motor shipments for the first quarter of 1928 were the largest in the company's history, and represent an 8 per cent increase over the corresponding period of last year. Net profit for the period totaled $356,518, after all costs, excepting federal taxes, and is also the largest in the company's history for any similar period.

General Motors Out in Front. General Motors resumed its old place as a market leader by soaring more than 5 points to a new high of 154 1/2. Graham-Paige jumped more than 7 points to a new high at 29 1/4, and then sank to 22. Striking gains also were recorded by some of the accessory stores. Electric Auto Lite soared more than 12 points to a new high at 162, and then slipped back to 159. Briggs and Murray Bodies and Continental Motors also attained new high prices. Ratio closed 7 points higher at 177 1/2, after having fluctuated between 173 and 180. Mack soared 28 points to a new high record of 62 1/2. Steel common, which had advanced 14 1/4 in the market, rallied to 15 1/4, and closed just below that level, for a net gain of 3 1/2 points. Crucible, Gulf States, Ludlum, and Republic Steels showed net gains of 1 1/2 points or more.

New York Central assumed the leadership of the railroad group by advancing 4 points to 181 1/2, a new high record for all time. Pere Marquette jumped more than 10 points to 102 1/2, and then sank to 95, but more than half of its gain. Canadian Pacific, Chesapeake and Ohio, Chicago and Eastern Illinois preferred, St. Paul preferred, Norfolk and Western, Union Pacific, Wabash, and several others advanced 2 points or more.

CHEAPER MONEY HELPS BONDS IN ACTIVE TRADING

New York, April 11.—(AP)—The bond market was active and firm today. Many issues were inclined to softness in the early trading, but reduction of the call money rate at noon served both to increase activity and budge prices to some extent. Trading again centered around New York traction issues and some rails; otherwise the list was featureless.

Erica Power corporation had a net loss from its own operations in the first quarter of the current year of about $600,000, according to Wall Street reports.

Net profit from plantation subsidiaries is estimated by the company at $1,000,000, bringing consolidated net earnings up to $400,000, or less than one-third of dividend requirements on preferred stock.

JUGGERNAUT

By Alice Campbell

SYNOPSIS.

Esther Rowe, a young nurse, having accompanied an invalid from the United States to Cannes on the Riviera, is about to return to New York when she sees an advertisement in the paper for a nurse and doctor's assistant and she decides to apply for the job in order to spend a little time in Cannes.

She is waiting when a man comes to her application to Dr. Sartorius. Esther takes her seat at the fashionable Restaurant des Ambassadeurs. She becomes interested in the conversation of a beautiful French woman and her escort, an Englishman, who sits at the next table. On returning to her hotel Esther finds a note from the doctor asking her to report in the morning.

The beautiful French woman of the restaurant comes to see Dr. Sartorius and asks him to be her doctor. A few days later her husband, Sir Charles Clifford, is stricken with typhoid fever, and the doctor gives up his practice and laboratory work to devote himself exclusively to Sir Charles. Esther is taken on the case as day nurse.

Sir Clifford, Sir Charles' only son, arrives in Cannes. Sir Charles tells him that he has changed his will, to the extent of making his executors and trustees of the whole estate Roger, who is attracted to Esther and invites her to dine and dance with him. They are to one of the famous restaurants.

On returning to the house Roger comes upon the stepmother in the darkened drawing room with Arthur Holliday, who has been paying Lady Clifford some attention. Roger orders Holliday to leave.

The next day Sir Charles breaks the news to his wife that he has named his son as his sole heir. Lady Clifford flies into a rage.

She is visited by a doctor who prescribes a medicine to ease her remedies.

In trying to open the bottle Roger breaks it and it cuts her. Esther minces the doctor's steps to the room to help him. The doctor is unmercifully angry with her over this carelessness. Two days later Sir Charles dies and the doctor says that he has analyzed the medicine but instead of returning it to the chemist he has analyzed it. Lady Clifford demands that he get the report from the chemist that the hypodermic needle contained typhoid germs. She awakens in the doctor's laboratory, but when she sees Sir Charles' son, Holliday, come in she feigns unconsciousness. She hears the doctor tell Holliday that it will be a good idea to inject tetanus serum into the son's arm. Esther Holliday to guard her the doctor leaves. Esther manages to escape through the skylight. She is in time to warn Roger and collapses at his feet and Roger sends for another doctor.

Early the next morning Lady Clifford is found dead in the garden.

INSTALLMENT LXV.

DEPARTURE.

Roger nodded and took the telegram, slipping it into his pocket. Then mechanically he handed the messenger fifty francs and watched him depart. At the door of Esther's room he encountered his aunt, her face full of alarm.

"What is it all about, Roger? Something dreadful has happened, I know it! I didn't dare leave the room after what you said."

"Close the door and come outside. Sartorius has gone, so Esther is quite safe from him, but she's in a very nervous state and I don't want her to know this yet. . . . Brace up, Dido, you must try to take what I'm going to say quite calmly. Thérèse is dead. She died last night."

"To this day," said a man to me not long ago, "I can't play without feeling a little guilty. I didn't quite realize it until one day last summer. My wife said to me, 'Why do you always act as if I were calling you for something whenever I appear on the beach, John? I like to see you having a good time.' Then it came over me that I am always subconsciously expecting to be called back to work. And I know why, too—I'll never get a job."

It seems that this man's parents were European born and all through his childhood he had to work. He was never expected to play and was literally never given time to. The only chance he ever got was when he sneaked away to join the boys. Then he said, he had one ear cocked every minute for his father's voice calling in a pre-emptory tone, "John! John!" And the echo sounded through his manhood.

We hear a great deal of talk these days about making our children independent—about making them responsible. But we must take these admonitions with a grain of salt. Or rather, we must put the theories of child-training to the test of common sense—of our understanding of childhood and a realization that it is in its essence different from adulthood. A child is not a man or a woman in miniature. He is a different being.

So we must not expect of a child an adult kind of responsibility. Child labor is a terrible thing for more reasons than physical ones. Too much adult work in childhood and too great adult responsibility are not conducive to the spiritual or physical growth of a child. They are apt to kill something in him that never can be revived.

All this doesn't mean that children should necessarily lead a butterfly existence. They should learn to be responsible, but their responsibilities should be those with which they can cope and which do not work because of sheer financial necessity, see to it that it is interspersed with play. FARM AND GARDEN
 BY FRANK RIDGWAY

Amateur gardeners may grow lilies from seeds in the open garden. That may be a surprise to many who have worked under the impression that a greenhouse or a frame is needed to start lily seeds.

Both inexperienced and experienced growers will be interested in Dr. David Griffith's new circular on the growing of lilies outdoors near Washington, D. C. He has just issued a report on twenty species of lilies, including the Madonna, Nunneke, Easter, Regal, Umbellatum, Orange, Thunberg, Redstar, Tiger, Leopard, Humbug, Turk's Cap, Columbia, Canada, Coral, Matagon, Hanson, and Speciosa.

Dr. Griffith has just written "A Score of Easily Propagated Lilies," published by the American Gardeners' Association. It is intended primarily for market growers of lily bulbs but it is filled with suggestions for amateur gardeners. He finds that the production of lilies from seed is not difficult as has been generally supposed. Work at Bellingham, Wash., brought out many surprises in the planting of lily seeds in the open field. It is the thing to do if it is possible to keep the surface of the ground moist long enough to get the seeds sprouted and up.

In machine-grown lilies do well. There is a fine, loamy soil, well of organic matter. Many of the questions that come up in the mind of the amateur lily grower are answered in Dr. Griffith's circular No. 23-C and also circular No. 27-C, which may be obtained by writing to the federal department of agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Tidy Habit of Daily Tubbing Creates the Well Groomed Look

Walking down a world famous avenue with a trained nurse, she caught the sign: "Nine rooms and six baths."

"Those signs of rooms with so many baths" she said, "always remind me of Mrs. X." (mentioning the name of a former patient). "She had five in her house, but to get her into one of these was beyond my athletic ability, and I'm no weak woman."

A patient, some time ago, who had just come from treating a patient kin to the nurse's Mrs. X. in her taste for water, waxed indignant over the whole sex of women as compared to the more universal cleanliness of men. I questioned the nurse on her experience. She hesitated a moment, but finally agreed that women on the whole were less addicted to the daily tubbing than men.

Not a pretty charge! Is it explained by the fact that a woman suggests that men aren't expected to clean the tub out after them? Or, are women just naturally not as particular about themselves? Or is the charge one of those generalizations that prove something about a few and not about the many? I'm inclined to the latter belief. Since cleanliness, sweetness of person, mean so much to a woman it isn't believable that this first and most important measure of the tub would be generally overlooked.

One rich lady, it is reported, has three tubs in her bath room, one for hot water, one for medium, and one for a cold plunge. Her idea of heaven is like that of the woman who wants her reward in the hereafter to be a row of beds so she can jump from one to the other and repeatedly experience that first joy of laying tired bones down to rest.

Three tubs, of course, are better than none, but no better than one, really. Nor is a black marble tub with silver facets better than a white enamel. It may beautify your bathroom more. If so your fancy runs, as a cinema star's did, but it will not beautify you any more.

In other words, you can't count the inmate's cleanliness by the number of the house's tubs. That you can only tell by the freshness of person, the dauntlessness of the undies, and the general meticulousness of one given over to the tidy habit of her daily tubbing.

MISS V. N.: AS YOU ARE A blonde, you should have no difficulty in concealing the hair on your chin by the use of peroxide, which is a bleach. You may dilute the peroxide with water—half and half—at first, and if that isn't sufficiently strong, use more of the bleach and less water.

Shoulder Straps Tie on the Newest Gowns

numerous smart Parisiennes are taking their evenings bieg. It is further remarkable because of a treatment of silhouette by which the house of Premet has distinguished itself this spring. You observe how the fulness of the skirt is placed well toward the back to contrast with a plain front; well, that is the way Premet is doing these things now.

This skirt is otherwise remarkable for the clever manner in which the back section, set in on a slanting line, assumes resemblance to an overskirt. There is a big puff drapery at the left side to emphasize a draping of the corsage which places the waist line at almost a normal level. The square decolletage is shown both back and front.

A Creole Stew.

First, if you are going to have a real Creole stew—there are a great variety—it is rather good to have a real Creole cook. I had one for the stove to be described, a Creole of an older day, born of a French father and black mother, hair in a high tight braid, a big, strong woman with a face I like because of its full quota of expressions.

I placed before Olivia a good supply of vegetables, but no meat except some bacon—English back—but there were no tomatoes, which I was sure she would ask for, as she did. I wanted to see what she could do without, she who had cooked for fifteen years in her own restaurant in New Orleans for several years, doch, more a day, without "stir" kinda, she says, plenty of red beans, rice, file gumbo and such, with mustard greens, spinach and turnips.

Olivia chose of the vegetables at hand only the onions, potatoes, and a sweet pepper. I expected to flinch a bit, and came near to doing so when I saw how coarsely she cut up the pepper, seeds and all, but she assured me that you would not see the seeds when the stew was cooked and she was right, and what if you did? the seeds were "sweet." I tasted a raw one and did not get burned.

The first step was to put the coarsely cut up vegetables into a stewpan, with no more water than what had clung to them, rinsed all together at the last. They stewed away in a lively way while Olivia fried out two slices of bacon, and put to one side to put finally on top of the stew, so as not to be cooked up. To the bacon fat she added a little lard, and in these fats browned some flour—there may have been two tablespoons of it. Straight from the teakettle, without a measure, she took just water enough for the browned flour to thicken well, stirred it till smooth, poured it over the vegetables, rinsed out the pan with a little water, added that, covered the stew pan and cooked the stew until the vegetables were tender.

Some day Olivia and I will go a shrimp. At any rate we will make a shrimp stew with egg plant and all.

My most embarrassing moment occurred in the office where I am employed. I came in and my hands were cold. Not thinking, I put my arms around one of the girls who was sitting with her back to me, and I kept on putting her neck till she turned around.

Imagine my embarrassment when I found out she was a visitor waiting to see the boss! The whole office just roared.

ELIZABETH ARDEN IS IN CHICAGO NOW

APRIL 12th, 13th and 14th

I've met her—and want you to meet her too

DEMETER

I've read of her, heard her discussed by "beauty editor," followed her about Europe, just missed her at the laboratory of a great consulting chemist of France. I had begun to believe she wasn't real. I pictured her hiding in an oracle's cave, from whence poured forth wise commands, commands that women took to themselves—and became lovely!

But now I know that Elizabeth Arden is real, a vivacious flesh and blood person, who must practice all the precepts that she preaches, for she embodies all the charm that she promises to others.

And I found her, not in a cave—indeed no—but in the loveliest sort of a setting in her smart Chicago Salons at 70 East Walton Place. I was shocked by the audacious youth of her! One cannot be so famous in one's teens, and yet she might still be a slip of a girl. What conviction one look of her would carry to every woman in the world!

She talked of her work, and her enthusiasm bubbled over. For years, she has spent every hour of her day in her Salons, giving advice to her clients on their individual needs in the laboratory, supervising the making of her wonderful Venetian Preparations, modifying formulas, testing ingredients, experimenting, working in the office, directing the work of her Home Course, answering the letters of women all over the country who look to her for advice on their problems of personal loveliness.

Elizabeth Arden's Venetian Toilet Preparations are on sale at the smart shops everywhere.
